Improved System to Create Pro Player Legends FIFA knows how important it is for players to feel like the legends on their own PlayStation 4 and Xbox One.

Along with a new player creation system, multiple embellishments give players more freedom to craft their own legends. New Faces - The new face creator gives fans more freedom to build their own legends. By snapping heads and bodies from real players as well as other references, fans can create their own player faces with more realistic, idiosyncratic features. New Abilities - New animations and animations with increased responsiveness give players more freedom to express themselves on the pitch. Players have new ways to attack the goal from different angles and even individualize their goals with new shooting animations. New Player Abilities - New off the ball animations give players more freedom to craft their own style of play and hone their craft. Finishing ability, dribbling, off the ball running, goal kicking, chip shots, headers and more are all improved. New Real-World Player Behaviors - Players now have more freedom in training and gameplay to show their personalities and play the way they want to play. Fans are able to affect decisions, and choose what plays their favorite player runs or how they want him to run. New Ball Physics - We implemented the PRO Engine, which was developed at EA SPORTS IGNITE Lab to deliver gameplay with increased fidelity for real-world player on real-world ball physics. Best Player Gameplay - Each player has their own personal stats page, where you can get an overview of player performance statistics for each game mode, including their passing, shooting, and dribbling accuracy, along with their final and first touch statistics. We've added a new deeper analysis for the game's best players, which displays player attributes based on their skill, dribbling, shooting, and technical ability. Improved Pace of Play - We introduced the idea that slow and hard is easy and fast and hard is hard. We used real-world player data to push the pace of play, including reducing passing times and turning passes. More passes are completed, possession time is reduced, and players take fewer touches off the ball. The pace of play is much faster because it demands greater player precision, decision making, and creativity. Improved Player Animations - Players now have more freedom in their movements and animations to create more varied gameplay. For example, players now sprint with each foot, can perform a variety of dribbling tricks, and have more
